Being the Change: A Letter from Our Executive Director
New Program: Youth Rapid Re-housing

In January, Housing Matters and six other agencies throughout the county kicked off the Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program. Santa Cruz County was one of just ten communities nationwide to receive this project grant from the federal government. The goal of the project is to test the theory that transition-age youth — those ages 18–24 — have unique needs that are best served by unique programs. The specifics of the project were designed by young adults who served on a Youth Advisory Board, working with community stakeholders. The project will last two years, to start.

Housing Matters is participating through a newly launched Youth Rapid Re-housing program, taking our years of rapid re-housing experience and combining it with best practices for working with youth. We’ll also be offering additional support, such as housing workshops specifically for youth.

Lingo Alert!

TRANSITION-AGE YOUTH are people between ages 18-24.
RAPID RE-HOUSING is short-term rental assistance and services to help people get back into permanent housing quickly while increasing self-sufficiency in order to stay housed.

26% OF THE HOMELESS POPULATION IN SANTA CRUZ COUNTY ARE TRANSITION-AGE YOUTH. THAT’S 569 YOUNG PEOPLE¹

95% OF HOMELESS TRANSITION-AGE YOUTH IN OUR COUNTY ARE UNSHELTERED¹

New Housing: 801 River Street

Vacant for two decades, the historic home at 801 River Street is now owned by Housing Matters. We know how to help people out of homelessness, and the solution is simple: housing. However, it’s no secret that the housing market in Santa Cruz County is tight as can be. We have decided to dip our toes into adding to the rental inventory, addressing the lack of affordable housing that is so often the biggest barrier our clients face in finding permanent housing.

We plan to convert the home into six or seven one-bedroom apartments, which will serve as permanent supportive housing. The planning and construction process should take about a year. Stay tuned!

Lingo Alert!

PERMANENT SUPPORTIVE HOUSING indefinitely combines ongoing housing assistance with wraparound supportive services for people living with disabilities.

Being the Change

The past year exemplified our commitment to moving forward to affect positive change towards resolving homelessness together. As always, this is only possible with the support of generous donors and volunteers like you. More than 1,315 of you contributed your time and funds to Housing Matters in FY19, and we couldn’t be more grateful.

All the major moves we made in FY19 have great implications for the future of our community. In FY20 we will be renovating 801 River Street into several permanent supportive housing units.

We also look forward to seeing the joy and relief on the faces of unhoused youth when they get keys to their very own housing through our new Youth Rapid Re-housing program. Your contributions empower our staff and board to press forward in our mission of partnering with individuals and families to create pathways out of homelessness and into permanent housing.

You may have noticed that we changed our name to Housing Matters. With deep roots in the community as Homeless Services Center, we have deliberately grown over the last several years into an organization with a sharp focus on a full array of housing-oriented services that extend beyond our two-acre campus. We hope that when you hear this name, you hear a rallying cry. Housing is the solution-oriented focus of the conversations we have with clients, and housing should be the focus for us all when discussing homelessness.

We are a community experiencing homelessness, and housing matters to everyone in Santa Cruz County.

Sincerely,

Phil Kramer, Executive Director

Your Generosity Matters

Without your support, homelessness in Santa Cruz County likely would have increased by as much as 20% in the past two years. We don’t yet know how many people will become homeless in 2019 and 2020, so your continued investment will keep us one step ahead in our collective effort to resolve homelessness in Santa Cruz County. Please give today.

Mario’s Success

“When you got people behind you, that’s what keeps you going,” says Mario, who was housed in early 2019. “It’s not even about personal inner strength. That support puts fire back in you to want to survive.”
